NAPLES, Dec. 28.

LAST Thursday the Marquess of Montalegre acquainted the Duke of Monteleon-Pignatelli with his Catholick Majesty's Order for him to set out for Spain within 15 Days, and to go by Sea with all his Family; but we hear the Duke has, nevertheless, obtain'd Permission to defer his Departure for a Month, to make the Journey by Land, and to borrow 30,000 Ducats upon a Mortgage of his Estate: The Order extends even to his Daughters who are in Pension in Convents. Upon the Signification of it, the Duke express'd a profound Submission to the Will and Pleasure of his Catholick Majesty; but it is said that there are secret Informations against him, and that he is sent for to Spain to give an Account of some certain Transactions, which render him suspected of a secret Attachment to the House of Austria.

Rome, Jan. 1. We are assur'd that his Holiness, to put an End to the Disputes with the Court of Portugal, has granted his Portuguese Majesty the Right of presenting a Cardinal, and the Nomination of all the vacant Benefices in his Kingdom for the future, as well as those in the Portuguese Colonies in Africa and the East-Indies. It is believ'd, that on the Arrival of Cardinal Aquaviva, the new Embassador from Spain, M. Ratti, Bishop of Cordova, and Minister at present from the Catholick Court, will repair to Naples, in the Quality of Prime Counsellor to the Infante Don Carlos. Last Tuesday an Express arriv'd here from Spain, who, after delivering a Packet to M. Ratti, continued his Journey to Naples. The Duke de Montemar is expected here to Night, and M. Ratti is making great Preparations to receive him.

Stockholm, Jan. 4. At the breaking up of the Dyet the King made the usual Present of 5000 Crowns to the Count of Lewenhaupt, the Marshal of the Dyet; but the Result of their Deliberations is still a Secret to the Publick. The Count of Casteja, Embassador from France, has just receiv'd an Express from Konigsberg with Dispatches from King Stanislaus, which his Excellency immediately communicated to the Prime Minister, the Count de Horn. It is said that the King intends to make a Visit in the Spring to his German Dominions; but as we have often had the like Reports, we suspend our Belief of the Matter.

Ferrara, Jan. 4. According to Orders from the Court of Rome, we have deliver'd 900 Waggon Loads of Hay. Part of the 4000 which a Detachment of Imperial Curiaffiers came to demand, in Consequence of the Agreement made with Count Konigsfegg: As to the other 3100 Waggon Loads, we have engag'd to send them as soon as possible to the Mantuan. The Colonel of the Detachment has given Notes for the Payment of this Forage, and is now retir'd with his Men, who liv'd at Discretion here until this Affair was settled.

Vienna, Jan. 8. His Imperial Majesty has resolv'd to lay an annual Tax of 50 Florins on every Person that either makes use of Sleds, gives Balls, holds Assemblies, or exhibits any other publick Diversions during the Carnival; and it is thought that the Tax will make those Diversions the more common. Letters have been dispatch'd to the Circles of Swabia and Franconia, demanding Leave to buy 2000 Horses to remount the Regiments of Caraffa and Duke Ferdinand of Bavaria, which are in his Imperial Majesty's Service.

Frankfort, Jan. 16. General Count Seckendorff is return'd back to Mentz, in order to hasten the new Fortifications there; and they work Day and Night, the Workmen being continually reliev'd, on those of Coblentzs and Rheinfels. The Countess de la Lippe-Dettmold, born Princess of Nassau-Idstein, was brought to bed of a Son the 11th Instant.

London, Jan. 18. His Grace the Duke of Argyle and Greenwich is dangerously indispos'd at his House in King-street near Golden-Square, attended by several Physicians: The Right Rev. the Lord Bishop of London hath been to visit his Grace.

The Earl of Ila, Brother to the said noble Duke, continues violently ill of a Pleurettick Fever.

Hague,

Hague, Jan. 18. Letters from Petersburg of the 28th past, confirm, that her Russian Majesty would not send the Succours promis'd by her to the Emperor, until the Troubles in Poland were pacified; and that she may have nothing to fear from the Turks, because it would not be proper she should disperse her Forces, that she may not be exposed in either of these Cases, to any sinister Accident. This Declaration has highly surprized Count Oestein, the Emperor's Minister at that Court; and the Circumstance of Mr. L'Etang's Stay at Petersburg, and his frequent Conferences with the Russian Ministers, give him great Reason to suspect, that the Russian Court listens favourably to the Proposals of the Court of France; and that the Orders they have lately sent to the Russian Generals, to use their utmost Endeavours to put an End this Winter to the Troubles in Poland, are only a Feint to conceal their After-Game, with the greater Art, till they see what Turn the Negotiations will take.

London, Jan. 16. Tuesday last his Majesty went in his Coach of State to the House of Peers, attended by his Grace the Duke of Richmond, Master of the Horse, and the Right Hon. the Earl of Albemarle, Gold-Staff Officer in Waiting; and being in his Royal Robes, seated on the Throne with the usual Solemnity, Sir Charles Dalton, Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod, was sent with a Message from his Majesty to the House of Commons, commanding their Attendance in the House of Peers: The Commons being come thither accordingly, his Majesty's Pleasure was signified to them by the Lord Chancellor, that they should return to their House and chuse a Speaker, and present him to his Majesty on Thursday the 23d Instant. They return'd accordingly, and unanimously chose the Right Hon. Arthur Onslow, Esq; to be their Speaker.

His Majesty hath directed a Warrant to the Jewel Office, for delivering the usual Quantity of Silver Plate to him.

The Motion for the said Gentleman to be Speaker, was made by Henry Arthur Herbert, Esq; Member of Parliament for Ludlow, and seconded by Col. James Cholmondeley, Member of Parliament for Camelford.

There were 443 Members sworn Yesterday in the Court of Wards; which considering, that the whole House is but 558, of which nine are dead since their Elections, and 19 chosen for two Places, is reckon'd as full a House as ever was known, the first Day of the Sessions.

Most of the Sixteen Peers for North-Britain took their Seats in the House of Peers.

Impeachments, Bills of Pains and Penalties, &c. are much talk'd of among the Politicians.

It is said the late Lord Bolingbrooke set out on Monday last for France, to visit his Lady, who lies very ill in that Kingdom.

We hear from Edinburgh, that about a Fortnight since died, at Balquhider in Perthshire, the famous Highlander Rob. Roy.

Yesterday his Grace the Duke of Queensberry and Dover gave a grand Entertainment to most of the sixteen Peers that serv'd in the last Parliament for North-Britain.

We hear that the Petition of the said Noblemen will be presented to the House of Peers by the Right Hon. the Earl of Stair, accompanied by twenty-one more Scotch Noblemen.

We hear that his Grace the Duke of Portland hath declin'd accepting the Place of one of the Gentlemen of his Majesty's Bed-chamber.

We hear that Sir William Irby, Bart. will stand as Candidate for Launceston Cornwall, in the Room of the Lord King, who is call'd up to the House of Lords.

The Princess, Consort of the Prince Royal of Prussia lies dangerously ill.

Advices from Cremona of the same Date confirm the former Account of an Action between a large Detachment of French, that were going to surprize Sabionetta, and another of Imperialists which went to the Defence of it: Our Letters say, that the Issue was to the Advantage of the French, and that the Imperialists had 400 Men kill'd on the Spot, besides three Companies of their Grenadiers made Prisoners.

They write from Paris, that besides the four Spanish Regiments of Horse, which had pass'd already through France for Italy, a fifth, call'd the Regiment of St. Jacques, was taking the same Rout; so that the Allies are resolv'd to push the Imperialists with all their Might.

They write from Naples, that an Italian Nobleman has been condemn'd three Years to the Gallies, only for sending a Challenge to a Spanish Officer for some Affront he had offer'd him.

Our Letters from Madrid of the 2d, now inform us, that the Damage done by the late Fire amounts to 7,000,000 of Pistoles; but we suppose they reckon the Palace at the prime Cost, tho' it was fit for little but to be either burnt or pull'd down. We likewise learn that the famous Treaty of Seville was consum'd in the said Fire, but we do not hear who are like to be the principal Sufferers by that Misfortune. It is said that her Catholick Majesty was at first under some Confusion, and propos'd a great Reward for saving it; but after a little Consideration her Majesty found the Loss of no great Consequence, Don Carlos being now in a Condition to do pretty well without it.

They write from Hanover, that an entire good Harmony is on the Point of being restor'd between his Majesty and the King of Prussia, and that it was generally said a Marriage between his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales and a Princess of Prussia, was to wipe off all former Causes of Misunderstanding.

Our Letters from Paris speak as if there was a Faction in the French Court, and that the Scheme for setting the Duke of Bourbon at the Head

Head of the Army of France was in a fair Way to take Place: The King took the Staff on New-Year's Day from the Marshal Noailles with a very remarkable Politeness; his Majesty told him, that the Proofs he had given of his Zeal, how glorious soever, were yet disagreeable to him, as he was sensible they had prejudic'd his Health; and that his Welfare was too necessary to the Kingdom to have it expos'd by any future Campaigns.

Letters from Naples say, that the Count de St. Estevan, who accompanied Don Carlos from Spain, in Quality of Grand Master of his Household, and indeed as a Sort of a Governor, has retir'd from the Administration of Affairs.

The Court of Vienna have receiv'd Information, that in Case the War should continue, the Fleets of France and Spain intend to make a Descent in the Adriatick next Summer; to prevent the Consequences of which, Orders have been sent for putting the Ports of Trieste and Fiume out of Danger of a Surprise.

We hear that the Answers of the Courts of France, Spain and Sardinia on one Side, and those of Vienna and Russia on the other, to the Proposals made by the mediating Powers for the Foundation of an Accommodation, are expected every Moment at the Hague, the Ministers there waiting their Arrival with a particular Impatience at this Crisis.

We learn from Warsaw, that King Augustus having propos'd a great Hunting-Match for the Entertainment of himself and his Court, receiv'd an anonymous Letter the Night before, bidding him take Care of his Person, which his Majesty accordingly thought proper to do, and laid aside the intended Diversion.

Letters from Konigsberg inform us, that a Prince of the House of Lubomirsky, and Nephew to the Palatine of Cracow, had declared for King Stanislaus, and assembled some Horse, with which he was going to join the Troops of that Prince.

Letters from Venice of the 1st Instant confirm the Account we formerly gave the Publick, that until a lasting Peace can be settled between the Turk and the Persian, there is a Treaty of Commerce settled between both Nations, and that Caravans travel from and to each other's Dominions with all imaginable Security.

They tell us from Paris, that the Bishop and Duke of Laon is fallen in new Disgrace with the Court, upon Account of two Letters; one to the King; and the other to the Archbishops and Bishops of the Province of Rheims; both which have been suppress'd by an Arret of Council.

We hear that the Royal African Company have receiv'd Letters from Gambia, dated the 27th of September last, with Advice that Job, the Son of Solliman the High Priest of Bonda in the Country of Fouta in Africa, was arriv'd safe there, and that he had been used with all possible Civility by the Company's Agents; and that at his own Desire he was sent up to Joar Factory, to meet and consult with some Friends in those Parts about the safest and most expeditious Way of sending him Home to his own Country.

We hear that his Majesty has approv'd of a Plan for erecting a magnificent Building at St. James's, for his Royal Highness the Prince of Wales, the Front of which is to extend from the North Window of the Chapel Royal, to the Gate leading into the Stable-yard.

We have an Account from Newcastle upon Tyne, that a few Days ago a Scotchman, who calls himself Capt. Wheeler, was committed to Durham Goal, for inlisting Men for Foreign Service, under Pretence of his being a Gentleman of a large Estate, and hiring them as Husbandmen to improve his Land.

We hear from Warkwork in Northumberland, that an Eagle has been shot near that Place of a prodigious Size, measuring three Yards and three Quarters from the Extent of the Wings. He had made great Havock in the Warrens thereabouts.
